Friends of the Wetlands

The Tennessee Wetlands Festival is a free event for the public and is made free by Sponsors and Friends. It brings people from all over to Athens, Tennessee. The Festival provides education in a fun and friendly atmosphere for children and adults to increase their knowledge and appreciation of Wetlands. People learn how the Wetlands reduce flooding and provide habitat for native species of animals, fish, birds, and plants. We also educate people on the social and historical aspects of the Wetlands and what that means for us today. The majority of past sponsorship came from corporation, but industries cannot do it alone. We welcome and need sponsorships from small businesses, families and individuals. If you would like to make a donation you can become a Friend of the Wetlands.
